Reference - Maffey.com

Over the last 18 months Maffey.com has developed and maintained a major new intranet initiative within Carter Holt Harvey. During this period we have found the team at Maffey.com to be extremely professional, flexible and proactive in meeting our development needs.

Our idea and project management system, i2B Performer, began as a small Intranet database but has now grown to become a very large complex application that is critical to project management and co-ordination within Carter Holt Harvey. The team at Maffey.com has made i2B Performer highly adaptable and suitable to our businesses needs. i2B Performer won a Highly Commended in the Innovate Category of the CHH Awards 2003. This system has been successfully implemented throughout our 22 business units. Currently there are over 1200 users with over 4000 projects in the system.

With the rapid growth of the i2B Performer System we have had a demanding schedule of upgrades and development work. This includes several emergency upgrades which have required 24 hour turn around. Maffey.com meets the deadlines required with excellent results. We have also found the team to be helpful and understanding to any user queries that have arisen.

Given our experience with a large number of IT and consulting companies, we are impressed with the value and support we have received from Maffey.com.

I would not hesitate in recommending the web development services of Maffey.com.
